The Company may also invest up to 15% of the Net Asset Value in equity securities of issuers other than the 15 financial services companies listed above. In order to supplement the dividends received on the Portfolio and to reduce risk, the Company will from time to time write covered call options in respect of some or all of the common shares in the portfolio.

The Company offers two types of shares:

Preferred Shares

The investment objectives with respect to the Preferred shares are as follows:

1. To provide holders with fixed cumulative preferential monthly cash dividends in the amount of $0.04375 per Preferred share to yield 5.25% per annum on the original issue price; and
2. On or about December 1, 2014 (the termination date) to pay holders the original issue price ($10) of the Preferred shares.

The investment objectives with respect to the Class A shares are as follows:

RISK

The risks of investing in the Company remain as discussed in the Annual Information form dated February 23, 2009. In addition, Note 3 of the annual financial statements ("Management of Risk") contains disclosure on specific types of risks related to the financial investments held by the Company.

The overall risk environment for all financial assets has increased significantly over the year ended November 30, 2008 as further explained in the Results of Operation section below. This environment has had a material adverse impact on the market prices of the companies held in the portfolio.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The year ended November 30, 2008 was one of the worst periods in financial market history. The underlying problems in the US subprime housing market which began to surface in August 2007 developed into a full global financial and economic crisis by the end of 2008.

The financial sector in the United States reached a critical point in the fall of 2008 as many former blue chip financial services companies, weighed down by worsening mortgage loans, excessive leverage and failed credit default swaps, began encountering capital and insolvency problems. The collapse of Lehman Brothers in September 2008 proved to be a particularly destabilizing event creating tremendous uncertainty in financial markets. Following this event, the US government took unprecedented actions to save many similarly troubled US financial companies by injecting billions into these companies in an effort to deal with their troubled assets and improve their capital bases.

The destabilization of the US financial services sector had a far reaching global impact and demonstrated the interconnectivity of world financial markets. As a consequence, most other major governments around the world ultimately had to take similar actions as it became evident that these problems were not isolated to the US financial services companies. On the monetary front, central banks around the world continued to aggressively cut administered interest rates to multi-decade lows in an attempt to make borrowing easier and stimulate their economies.

Notwithstanding the massive amounts of capital that have been injected into financial services companies around the world and record low interest rates, the credit “freeze” remained a major problem as lending activity reached record low levels towards the end of 2008. The lack of available credit to even the most creditworthy corporations began weighing on economic growth.

By the end of 2008, the cumulative impact of the deterioration in financial and economic conditions created record lows in business, investor and consumer confidence and resulted in recessionary conditions throughout the world. In addition, the de-leveraging of hedge funds and other similar funds during the final months exacerbated market volatility and losses in financial markets.

Market indices experienced declines not seen since the Great Depression of the 1930s. In North America, declines of -32.45% and -47.62% respectively for the S&P TSX Financial index and S&P 500 Financials index for the year ending November 30, 2008 evidenced the deterioration of financial and economic conditions on even the most broadly financial indices.

Throughout this difficult environment, the core holdings in the portfolio have been negatively impacted. The Company met its distribution objectives during the year for Preferred shares but due to the decline in the net asset value to below $15 per unit in November, the final dividend payment in November was not declared and as a result Class A shares received only 11 of the 12 monthly payments.

Although the Canadian financial services companies have been adversely impacted by this worldwide financial crisis, the Canadian banks have on a relative basis performed much better than almost all other banking sectors across the world. The portfolio continues to have an over-weighted position to Canadian financial services stocks and ten of the 15 core holdings remain in Canadian financial services stocks. The dividend income in the portfolio continues to be supplemented by a limited covered call writing program which provides some additional income to the portfolio.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Class A Shares - Distributions

Class A shareholders are entitled to receive regular monthly cash dividends initially targeted to be $0.10 per Class A share to yield 8.0% per annum on the original issue price. A total of $1.10 in distributions was paid during the period.

Cumulative Distributions since inception

Preferred Shares - Distributions

Preferred shareholders are entitled to fixed, cumulative preferential monthly cash dividends in the amount of $0.04375 per Preferred share to yield 5.25% per annum on the original issue price. Distributions paid during the period were at the fixed rate for a total $0.525 per share.

Cumulative Distributions since inception

Detailed information on the impact of these standards can be found in Note 3 of the annual audited financial statements.

Merrill Lynch & Co. Inc., (previously a core holding) was acquired by Bank of America on December 31, 2008. As at February 12, 2009, the Company was reviewing potential replacements for Merrill Lynch.

(2) This information is provided as at November 30

(3) A separate base management expense ratio has been presented to reflect the normal operating expenses of the Company excluding the one time initial offering expenses and performance fees. Management expense ratio is based on total expenses for the stated year and is expressed as an annualized percentage of average net assets during the year

(4) Share issue expenses, representing all Agents' fees and other offering expenses are one time initial expenses connected with the launch of the Company.

(5) Performance fees occur in years in which the total return per unit exceeds a pre established threshold

(6) The Company's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Company's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Company buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The Company employs a covered call writing strategy which can cause the portfolio turnover rate to be higher than conventional mutual funds. The higher the Company's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Company in the year and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Company

(7) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of average net assets during the year.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The past performance of 1) the net asset value per unit (1 Preferred share and 1 Class A share); 2) the Preferred share on net asset value basis; and 3) the Class A share on a net asset value basis for each year ended November 30 since inception are presented in the bar charts below. Each bar in the chart reflects the change in percentage terms of how a Unit, a Preferred share or a Class A share would have increased or decreased during the applicable period. In respect to the charts displayed below, please note the following:

- The performance information shown assumes that all cash distributions made by the Company during the years shown were reinvested in the applicable additional securities of the Company,
- The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that would have reduced returns or performance; and,
- Past performance of the Company does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Valuation of investments

In accordance with Accounting Guideline 18, Investment Companies, investments are deemed to be categorized as held for trading, and are required to be recorded at fair value as defined in CICA Handbook-Accounting Section 3855, Financial Instruments-Recognition and Measurement ("Section 3855"). The provisions of Section 3855 were applied retroactively without a restatement of prior periods. Accordingly, the opening net assets in the Statement of Changes in Shareholders Equity for the period ended November 30, 2007 have been adjusted.

The fair value of investments as at the financial reporting date is determined as follows:

- Shares or other securities for which market quotations are readily available are valued at the closing bid price
- Listed options are valued at closing bid prices as reported on recognized exchanges
- Fixed income investments are based on the average bid quotations from recognized dealers

Section 14.2 of amended National Instrument 81-106 ("NI-106") issued by the Canadian Securities Administrators, that came into force on September 8, 2008, requires an investment fund to calculate its net asset value for the purposes of any purchases or redemption of units to be based on the fair value of the investment's fund's assets and liabilities (Net Asset Value or NAV). The Company has not changed its methodology in this respect.

The fair value of investments for purposes of calculating the bi monthly net asset value published on the Company's website and also used for the purposes of calculating the price paid on any redemptions received is determined as follows:

- Shares or other securities for which market quotations are readily available are valued at the last traded market price
- Listed options are valued at the last traded prices as reported on recognized exchanges
- Fixed income investments are based on the average bid quotations from recognized dealers

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Canadian Accounting Standards Board (“AcSB”) has confirmed its plan to adopt all International Financial Reporting Standards, as published by the International Accounting Standards Board, on or by January 1, 2011. In accordance with Canadian GAAP and AcSB’s plan, the Company will adopt the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The Manager has developed a changeover plan to meet the timetable published by the CICA for changeover to IFRS. The key elements of the plan include disclosures of the qualitative impact in the 2009 annual financial statements, the disclosure of the quantitative impact, if any, in the 2010 financial statements and the preparation of the 2012 financial statements in accordance with IFRS with comparatives. The Manager has presently determined that there will be no impact to net asset value per unit from the changeover to IFRS. The impact of IFRS on accounting policies and implementation decisions will mainly be in the areas of additional note disclosures in the financial statements of the Company.

3. Management of Financial Risk

The Company’s investment activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including price risk, interest rate risk and currency risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

Any sensitivity analysis presented below may differ from actual results and the difference could be material.

Market Price Risk

All securities investments present a risk of loss of capital. The 15 core stock holdings were selected because of their long term history of above average market price appreciation and dividend growth. These Portfolio companies were selected from the financial services indices of the S&P/TSX 60 and S&P 100 and are among the largest financial services companies in North America.

The market price risk is affected by three main components: price movements, interest rate risk and foreign currency movements.

Price risk

The Investment Manager manages market price risk by limiting investment in any one Portfolio company to no more than 10% of the net assets of the Company at the time of purchase. In addition, the supplemental covered call writing program which generates an additional stream of income to the portfolio may also help mitigate against market price declines during years in which a particular Portfolio company has a covered call option written against that position.

Since the 15 portfolio companies (10 Canadian and 5 U.S. core holdings) are significant components of their corresponding financial services index, it would be reasonable to expect that the Company’s portfolio will exhibit market price movements that are reflective and generally highly correlated with those particular securities and to a lesser extent with the price movements of the S&P/TSX financial services index and the S&P US financial services index based on the underlying composition of the portfolio.

A 10% increase /decrease in the portfolio (net of any covered call options written) would currently increase/decrease net assets by $8,279,831.

FINANCIAL 15 SPLIT CORP. II

FOR THE YEARS ENDED NOVEMBER 30, 2008 AND 2007

Interest rate risk

The majority of the Company's financial assets and liabilities are non interest bearing. As a result, the Company is not subject to significant amounts of risk due to fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates and considers interest rate risk insignificant.

Currency risk

Five of the 15 core financial services Companies are US financial services Companies that are listed on the New York stock exchange and trade in US dollars. As at November 30, 2008, 19.3% of the net assets are invested in US dollar denominated assets. As a result, the Company's net asset value will be affected by changes in the US dollar relative to the Canadian dollar which is the functional currency of the Company. The Company has not entered into currency hedging contracts. As a result, if the Canadian dollar appreciated/depreciated by 5% against the US dollar, the net assets of the Company would currently decrease/increase by approximately $803,914.

Other risks

Credit risks

Credit risk is defined as the risk that a counterparty will be unable to pay amounts in full when due. All of the Company's transactions are in listed securities and options and are settled and paid for using approved brokers. The risk of default is considered minimal as delivery of securities sold is only made once the broker has received payment. Payment is made on purchase once the securities have been received by the broker.

Liquidity risk

The Company pays monthly dividends and is subject to redemption requests from time to time. The Company's Portfolio is invested in highly liquid large capitalization investments that trade on the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX") and New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE"). As such, any requirement to raise cash beyond the Company's normal operating level can easily be satisfied through the sales of its Portfolio holdings. The Company receives adequate notice for all redemption requests. The Company considers liquidity risk as low.

Concentration risk

The Company's 15 core holdings are concentrated in the financial services sector and as such will be exposed to the specific factors that affect this sector. An individual Portfolio holding may represent no more than 10% of the net asset value of the Company at the time of purchase.
